Fraud Season is Every Season

Recently we published some warnings issued by S.D. County District Attorney Ed Miller who noted they closely paralleled some which had occurred among Lemon Grove-Spring Valley residents. Here are some more:

Most highly publicized has been the pigeon drop although some others have been successfully tried, too.

For one, the pyramid scheme, an investment fraud, has been profitable to the perpetrator.

In it, an individual is offered a distributorship or franchise to market or franchise a particular product. The investment contract also authorizes the selling of additional franchises.

High and quick profit comes for the sale of franchises.

If the franchise price is $10,000 and the investor is promised $3,500 for each franchise he sells, the sale of 3 franchises will give him a profit on his investment with pure profit coming from any future sales.

Investors, then use their energies to sell franchises rather than product. Obviously, the supply of potential investors becomes exhausted and the pyramid collapses. Attempts to sell product often fail, usually because it is overpriced and because no real effort by the promoters has been made to sell product.

In some instances promoters limit the number of franchises in a geographical area to escape prosecution charges that they are operating a pyramid scheme.

Such a control limits the number of participants and later investors are precluded from recovering their investment and the scheme remains inherently fraudulent.

A franchise must be registered with the Calif. Dept. of Corporations and is to be classified as a security or specifically exempted. Consult your attorney to review the contracts and to insure that the company is legitimate.

The most common form of charity fraud is the solicitation of money for an ostensibly worthwhile cause by those who have no intention of passing the money on if, in fact, the organization does exist.

Often professionals do the soliciting but fail to disclose that they are pros and that they receive a large percentage of the funds raised.

Some put on shows such as rodeos, magic shows, vaudeville or circuses. It is indicated that all proceeds go to charity. However, some promoters oversell the auditorium's capacity and keep the money. Some remit only a small portion to charity and some fail even to put the show on.

Lately, a significant number of frauds involve the selling of advertise in a "police" or "law enforcement" publications. Implied is that funds will go to slain officers' widows or something similar. In reality, it goes into the pockets of the criminals.

California law requires that the citizen must be told the percentage going to the charity and that going to the promoter. In the City of S.D. the solicitor needs to be licensed by the Police Dept.

Later, we'll tell you about the "Bait and Switch", "Land Sales" and "Showcase" frauds.

Epigrams from Readers

A couple of weeks ago we published a list of epigrams that may have had Chinese ancestry.

Readers began sending in their own.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greeson of Spring Valley suggested that "Pennywise and pound foolish" might have had an oriental counterpart "He who goes to bed early to save on candles begs twins."

Greg Laskey of Lemon Grove sent his favorite — one that probably is based in modern philosophy. "If it ain't broke, don't fix it."

"Absence makes the heart grow fonder" says an anonymous writer, was from the oriental saying "He who would be forgotten stays away."

Large Attendance Proves Point

State Senator Jim Mills, Senate Select Committee on Investment Priorities and Objectives called a meeting in San Francisco recently during which he discussed his leisure-sharing proposal.

In it, employers would give more paid leisure time to employees, filling the void with those who are now unemployed.

He reported that he had addressed a gathering of the California Manufacturers Assn. and that they had not been adequately depressed by his complaint that California's unemployment rate had not fallen below 7% for any year of the current decade.

If CMA was there to protest the leisure-time proposal, they blew it when they packed the meeting-room.

Then he admonished them, "When I see how many important people are able to take time off to attend this meeting, I am even more convinced leisure-sharing has a future."

2 Armed Men Rob Gibraltar S&L

Two bandits held up the Lemon Grove Gibraltar Savings and Loan Assn. office, College and Federal, November 16, escaping with an undisclosed amount of cash.

Monday California Federal S&L Assn. was also robbed according to the FBI.

It is suspected that the armed robbers were the same in both crimes. In both robberies, the men entered the banks within minutes after they were opened for business.

The suspects are described as black males, both in the 20's, about 5'-6" and weighing 135-150 pounds. A third man was seen leaving with the others who would also fit their description.

It is policy that robbery victims do not reveal the amount of money lost. It is said to do otherwise would encourage more robberies.

Solar Info Offered

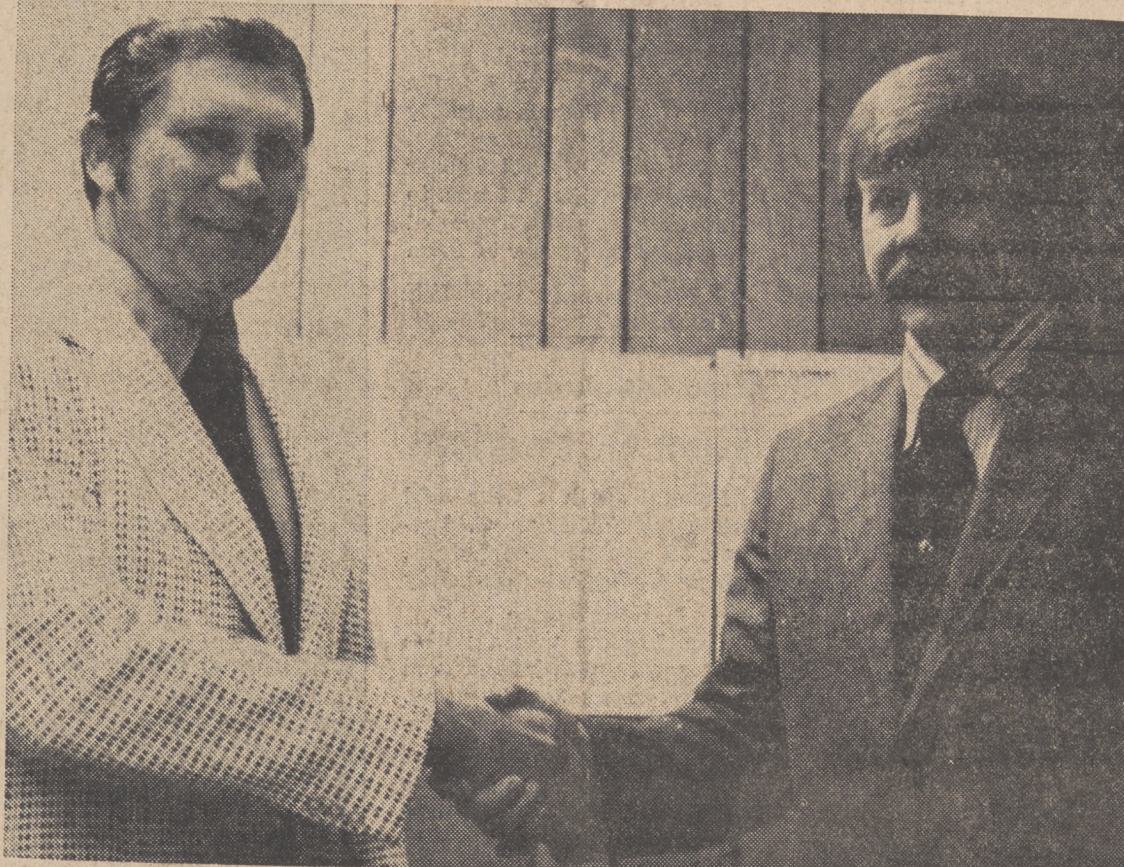

Schools and organizations interested in solar energy and its uses should contact SDG&E for demonstration talks at 232-4252, ext. 1111.

Demonstrations will concentrate on a new model solar home teaching system and a working solar heater to illustrate typical systems and their operation.

Conditioner Study Planned

Implementation of a program to study specific air-conditioning needs in S.D. County is expected to begin next summer, the Public Utilities Commission has announced.

The studies are part of rate design recommendations in pending SDG&E rate proceedings before the commission, and to help providing relief for minimum residential air conditioning areas where it is most needed.

NEW LG CITY MANAGER, Jack Shelver (r) shakes hands with Lemon Grove Mayor James Dorman on his first day at work in Lemon Grove City Hall. Shelver assumed his duties November 16.

New Changes Coming For School Suspensions

If a junior high student is caught drunk at school, he or she won't be given three days before a suspension is handed down — after January 1 they can be kicked out on the spot.

The California legislature has mandated through a new law passed this fall, AB 530, parents no longer need to be called in to be informed their son or daughter has been suspended from school. Although, parents will be notified by mail.

Prior to the bill, the school principals were required to call in parents within three days to explain the charges against their children.

But under the new provisions effective January 1, students will be treated as adults and given, as in the courtroom, the charges against them, the reason for disciplinary action, and a chance to argue against the suspension.

The law adds suspension may occur in "emergency" situations without the informal meeting between student and Principal if the situation posed a "clear and present danger" to the lives, safety or health of pupils or school personnel.

In Tuesday night's Lemon Grove School District meeting, Dr. Robert Sutton informed the board of the impending mandates but resolved to deal with changing the local disciplinary guidelines to a later date.

According to one local resident on the staff of the San Diego County Department of Substance Abuse, Chuck Penell of 2115 Craig court, applauded the bill for naming specifically the consumption of alcoholic beverages in the list of school infractions.

In other business conducted by the Lemon Grove Board: The Board approved a subdivision letter from the Gold Meadows Subdivision. The Subdivision requested the school district to accommodate new students in the 12 unit project in the City of La Mesa.

The board also approved the hiring of two teacher's aids, one each for Lemon Grove and Palm Junior High schools.

And the board also heard a report from Assistant Superintendent Jim Justeson on the results of state testing. The tests showed Lemon Grove district to fare slightly above the 50th percentile and to have come up in the ratings.

Crime Prevention Seminar for L.G. Business People

The third in a continuing series of crime prevention seminars, presented by the S.D. County Sheriff's Department and the Small Business Administration, will begin at 7:30 p.m., December 6 at the Golden Avenue Elementary School, School Lane and Golden ave., in Lemon Grove.

These seminars provide valuable information to business people on ways of reducing the opportunity of robbery, burglary, shoplifting, fraud, and employee theft.

Recently released federal statistics show a $30 billion loss in the U.S. business community each year for these crimes (Department of Commerce, November 16, 1977).

In San Diego, these crimes will cause a business loss totalling approximately $20 million this year.

Special emphasis will be placed on the seasonal increase in shoplifting, and employee theft at Christmas.

Admission is free, and the public is invited.

Heat On Bookies

Bookmakers, numbers, policy operators of wagering pools and lotteries and people in business of accepting wagers on sports events are required to register with the Internal Revenue Service and to pay a federal occupation tax of $500 a year.

In addition, a two per cent excise tax will be levied on wagers. Compliance with the tax law will be strictly enforced and violators face criminal prosecution in addition to civil penalties.

City Council in Marathon Meet

DoT Requirements Bring Squawks from Property Owners

The Lemon Grove Council meeting room was full Monday night.

So was the agenda.

Adjournment came at 15 minutes before midnight.

During the marathon meeting there was less business accomplished than the time and agenda suggested. But during the 4 hours and 15 minutes session, both councilmen and audience appeared to agree that too many government agencies were sticking too many fingers into local affairs.

Overgovernment appeared to be a part of 3 actions. All involved the Department of Transportation (DoT).

Lemon Grove's new city manager, Jack Shelver, was there for the first time and he entered into some of the discussions. He said nothing to lengthen the meeting. He was fine.

Of the 3 actions, it was the case of Mrs. Constance G. Da Silva who needed to sell a parcel of her land on Nina rd. that set the stage.

DoT had ordered her to install street lights, sidewalks with curbs and gutters as condition of sale.

She patiently explained that there was no property on her side of the street with sidewalks and curbs. They simply wouldn't connect with anything. About the street lights. They had been installed long ago.

Council asked staff to study the matter and report on February 6.

Richard McGarvey of 8396 Golden ave., who wanted to add a structure to his property complained bitterly of assigning DoT requirements.

Tear Out Trees

Golden ave., he explained, is 90% developed. There are no sidewalks nor curbs along the tree and shrub-lined street. A street light he was required to install, would be adjacent to an existing light, he said. Sidewalks and curbs would require removing several long-existing trees — and that would be in conflict with environmentalists, he said.

McGarvey said he had visited the neighborhood of Rudy Massman, DoT director. "There are no sidewalks and curbs in front of his house," McGarvey reported.

This brought Mayor Jim Dorman to comment that it was not in the public interest to enforce redevelopment on Golden ave.

"It is not necessary to apply DoT demands on Golden ave. to accommodate orderly development of surrounding territory," he said.

"We'll look at each parcel request separately."

This brought a round of applause from the audience.

Jim Easterling, whose family owns a parcel of land on Golden offered his opinion regarding bureaucratic interference.

Mayor Dorman instructed City Attorney Donald McLean together with City Manager Shelver, to prepare a policy paper to guide future decisions.

Library Delayed

Arthur Becker, who had contracted to build a County Library on his property at Broadway and Washington, told a depressing story of how he had signed an agreement to construct the library — together with 3 other shopping center-type buildings. One county agency required him to join the buildings together and file a costly subdivision map. The architects fees for redesign were not cheap, either, he said.

Becker said the new design increased the construction cost dramatically. But he got approval. He was ready to start.

Then DoT decided he would have to underground utilities on Broadway and on Washington, and provide street improvements on Broadway. The bank loan couldn't be completed until all requirements were met, he explained. The County became restive and is going to cancel his library contract, he said. The undergrounding would cost him $77,000. He already had nearly $100,000 in the project and hadn't turned a shovel of soil. Dorman said council might consider holding undergrounding in abeyance for a year or so but apparently Becker needed more than that.

Complex Matters

In the end, the mayor asked McLean and Shelver to prepare a policy doctrine since staff (DoT) was dropping complex matters into the laps of the council.

Realtor Dan Thren fared better. He had asked for vacation of an alley in the rear of his property in the 7300 block of Broadway. Council agreed — under certain circumstances. It would have to include the entire alley between West and Harris streets and include a reciprocal agreement with Thren's neighbors to the east. McLean was instructed to draft a policy that would in the future require that vacations to include contiguous property the length of the alley so it could be considered as a single project and vacated therewith.

Thren noted that he was spending $20,000 (drainage) to upgrade the alley.

Council heard the first reading of a utilities franchise that would provide a 2% franchise fee on gross income.

Council approved an opening onto Skyline dr. from Sarawak dr.

A request that council take action on a dangerous, newly installed berm along the south side of San Miguel between San Miguel school and McArthur dr. was already being corrected as the agenda item was being heard.

The next meeting will be December 5.

There's An Answer

by Mr. & Mrs. Norman Vincent Peale

Split-personality husband

Q. My husband has a split personality. Part of the year he is so sweet and loving we can discuss anything, and I am as close to heaven on earth as I can get. He treats me like a queen and talks of not deserving such a wonderful family.

Then one day, zingo! I can remember the exact place he starts finding fault with me and the children. Every discussion where I don't agree he says I am "arguing" with him.

There's never a good night or good morning, never a please or a thank you. He never smiles or talks to me.

I have tried to get him to a doctor but he doesn't think he needs one. I feel I should stick with him but maybe he'd be better off without me. Can you give me any kind of answer?

A. If you have a husband who is wonderful part of the year and terrible another part of the year, you at least have a 50 per cent average. And believe me, a lot of women haven't got that much.

There is no doubt that your husband loves you and, of course, he needs you. He couldn't get along without you. But to live with such a person requires a lot of understanding and patience.

His "split personality" can be cured, and he is very mistaken in thinking that he does not need psychological help. Mrs. Peale has written a book called "The Adventure of Being a Wife" in which she has a chapter, "Study Your Man." It explains how a wife can acquire the patience and understanding needed in order to cope. Perhaps your local library has a copy of this book.

a month ago. He had cancer and a long illness. He was my world. I went to the doctor and dentist because I am gritting my teeth in the daytime as well as at night.

All they give me is tranquilizers, and I can't take them. They put me to sleep. I am like a zombie and I can't function. I have to work. Please help me.

A. What you really are is a loving, brokenhearted wife suffering from exhaustion and extreme tension, for you have surely been through something.

Why not look at it this way: after a long illness your husband is at peace. And he wants you to have the same peace, which can come only from God.

Practive affirming three times every day, upon awakening, at midday and before retiring: "The peace of God is flooding my mind, my body, my life." Then just give it all to God and He will give you strength and peace to carry on your work.

Why do friends change?

Q. What suddenly goes wrong with those we thought were our friends. I have known this lady many years. She turned to me with her problems and came to me in the unhappy times.

For some reason in the last several years she doesn't call for days or doesn't come to see me. She works and I understand her time isn't hers any more, but she manages time for those she has just recently met.

I admit it hurts me as I defended her and sincerely liked her. To make it worse none of my family lives here and several of my friends have moved to other states. Can you give me an answer?

A. It is possible that the lady, having opened up her personal problems to you, now feels reticence, even though you defended her. You may also have shown a possessiveness from which she recoils.

We suggest you make new friends and do not be disturbed by this lady's withdrawal. The more naturally you act about it, the happier you will be. And in time it might restore the friendship.

If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in this column, write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, NY 12564.

At Friends Church

Food Donation Program Deemed Successful In S.V.

The Spring Valley Friends Church have collected $406 in a Love Loaf program to donate to starving families in the world's disaster areas.

The program, begun some three months ago, ended Sunday with a net average of $10 in pennies, dimes, and quarters stuffed into miniature containers shaped like loafs of bread.

The Reverend D. Farris, pastor of Friends Church asked the members to place the containers on their dinner tables and to donate at mealtime.

More than 40 of the containers were distributed and then collected for Sunday's opening ceremony.

"We believe the program was a success," said Rev. Farris. "It gave our church families a new awareness of world need as well as an opportunity to do something about it."

The Rev. Farris added 50 percent of the money will go to World Vision International, a food distribution organization, and the remaining 50 percent to the Inner City Ministries of Long Beach.

"It costs World Vision only $15 to feed a hungry family of five for a month," the Reverend reiterated, "so we have a feeling that we have done something important."

The Missionary Committee at Spring Valley Friends Church still have 17 loaves left to be opened and it is hoped the funds in these containers will put the Church over the goal of $500.

Among the items purchased by the funds will be food, medicine, and vitamins.

The Love Loaf program was introduced in California in 1974 and has been adopted by some 400 churches statewide. During 1975-76, the number of participating churches increased to 2,000.

This Week's RECIPE

Caramel Kraut Cake

Try this on your health nut friends. This week's recipe is nearly a balanced meal in itself. It's rich, too.

Caramel Kraut Cake contains something from all four food groups; enriched flour from the bread and cereal group; milk from the dairy group; eggs and nuts from the meat or protein group; and sauerkraut from the fruit and vegetable group.

Caramel Kraut Cake
2 1/4 cups enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 cup butter
3/4 cup dark brown sugar
3 eggs
3/4 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sauerkraut, rinsed, drained and chopped
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Stir together dry ingredients; reserve. Cream together butter and sugar. Add eggs to creamed mixture, one at a time beating well after each addition. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture alternately with milk, beginning and ending with flour. Add vanilla. Stir in sauerkraut and nuts. Pour into a greased 13 by 9 inch pan and bake in a 350 degree oven 25 to 30 minutes. Cool. Frost with Whipped Caramel Frosting.

Whipped Caramel Frosting
2 1/2 tablespoons enriched flour
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup dark brown sugar

1/2 cup butter
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
Cook flour and milk in saucepan over low heat until very thick, stirring constantly. Cool completely. Cream sugar and butter until light. Add vanilla. Add creamed mixture to cooled flour mixture; continue beating until the consistency of whipped cream.

Raider-Beaters In Seattle Sunday; Host Browns Dec. 4

The San Diego Chargers, ranked number one in the American Football Conference in total defense and pass defense, meet the Seattle Seahawks in an AFC Western Division game at 1 p.m. Sunday in the Kingdome in Seattle.

The Chargers have a 5-5 record, having beaten Oakland 12-7 last week. Seattle is 3-7 after a 22-10 loss to Houston.

It will be the first regular season meeting between the Chargers and Seahawks, who were aligned in the AFC West this year. The Seahawks defeated the Chargers 17-16 in the 1976 preseason and the Chargers defeated the Seahawks 38-20 in the 1977 preseason.

With three victories, the Seahawks, a second-year expansion team, have surpassed their total of two victories in 1976. The Seahawks defeated Tampa Bay 30-33, Buffalo 56-17, and the New York Jets 17-0. Their 1976 victories were 13-10 over Tampa Bay and 30-13 over Atlanta.

Seahawk leaders: Sherman Smith has rushed for 497 yards, a 4.6-yard average, and scored 3 touchdowns. Jim Zorn has passed for 921 yards and 8 touchdowns. Don Testerman has caught 23 passes for an 8.5 average and 3 touchdowns. Steve Largent has caught 22 passes for an 18.6 average and 6 touchdowns.

The Seahawks' Eddie McMillan set a club record with a 57-yard return of an intercepted pass last week and Seattle set a club record with its sixteenth pass interception. John Leybold needs one more point to equal his club record of 43 points in 1976.

Olander Overcomes

With quarterbacks James Harris and Bill Manson sidelined with injuries, the Chargers started rookie quarterback Cliff Olander and overcame the World Champion Oakland Raiders with raw football. The Chargers set a club record with 58 rushing attempts and their 263 yards rushing was the fourth highest total in club history.

Olander threw only two passes in the second half as the Chargers' ground attack positioned Rolf Benirschke for 22- and 46-yard field goals that lifted the Chargers from a 7-6 halftime deficit.

The Chargers held Oakland to 142 yards and the Chargers' season total of 2,364 yards, 236.4 a game, moved them past Pittsburgh into first place in the AFC in total defense. They are first in the AFC in pass defense, giving up an average of 90.2 yards. They are ninth in rushing defense in the AFC.

The Chargers recorded three quarterback sacks against Oakland, giving them 35 for 293 yards in losses this season. The sack figure is the best since the Chargers had 35/280 in 1969 and is bettered only by the club-record 42/373 of 1961 and the 38/291 of 1962 and 38/408 of 1964.

The Chargers are tied with Baltimore (35/274) for first in sacks in the AFC. They are second to New England in "sack differential." New England has 32 sacks and its quarterbacks have been sacked eight times for plus

24. The Chargers' quarterbacks have been sacked 14 times for plus 21.

The attendance of 50,887 was the highest for the Chargers at home since 52,446 watched a Monday night game with the New York Jets in 1975. The Chargers are averaging 43,957 attendance for five home games. After five games last year they were averaging 39,428 and they finished the season with an average of 37,136.

The Chargers' ticket office, gate E at San Diego Stadium, will be open from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday. Tickets are available for the remaining two home games, against Cleveland December 4 and against Pittsburgh December 13.

KSDO (1130) will offer radio coverage of the Chargers-Seahawks game in the San Diego area. Pat Curran's NFL Weekend begins at 10:50 a.m. Chargers Talk, co-hosted by Bobby Chandler and Bruce Walton, begins at 11 a.m. The Tommy Prothro Show is at 12:30 and game preview at 12:50. Jerry Gross, John DeMott, and Scott Gregory will be at the microphones.

NBC Sports will televise on Channel 39 with Dick Stockton and Len Dawson doing the call.

SD HoC Names Louie Kelcher

Louie Kelcher, whose heroics as a tackle on the San Diego Chargers' defensive unit have made him one of the season's most popular figures, and Mission Bay Yacht Club's veteran skipper, Jeff Lenhart, have been chosen co-Stars of the Month by the Hall of Champions Breitbard Athletic Awards Committee.

Despite being sidelined part of the time with a neck injury, the 282-pound Kelcher ended the month with a 1977 record of 8½ quarterback sacks, 43 unassisted tackles and 12 assists. It was after the former Southern Methodist star was hurt in the Kansas City game with the Chargers apparently headed for victory that the Chiefs came from behind to score the winning points.

With his wife Peggie doing the crewing, Lenhart added to his growing collection of sailing honors the North American centerboard sloop class championship in a Mission Bay regatta which attracted 54 boats. The Lenhart tandem posted three victories, a second and a third during the series, and among their victims was a previous Star of the Month selectee, Earl Elms.

Certificates of Achievement were awarded to four members of the San Diego State football team, including quarterback Joe Davis, who remained among the nation's top collegiate passers with his mark of 97 completions in 168 attempts for 12 touchdowns.

Other Aztecs in the group were Eddie Ito, 230-pound inner guard who brought his seasonal totals to 44 tackles, 24 assists, 10 pass rushes, 1 sack and a fumble recovery; Terry Jackson, cornerback who had five interceptions, 28 tackles, 13 assists and broke up 11 pass attempts; and Whip Walton, senior linebacker, who underlined his defensive skills by lifting his 1977 count to 68 tackles and 43 assists, plus knocking down five potential pass completions.

Girl Cagers Wanted

Openings still exist for 4th through 8th grade divisions of the Spring Valley Girls' Basketball League.

Those interested should call the S.V. Rec. office at 460-2033 on Monday to sign up and get a team assignment.

SDSU Basketball

Improved Aztecs Open Season Fri. At Sports Arena

Everything on paper shows that the 1977-78 version of the S.D. State U. basketball team will be vastly improved over last year's edition.

The Aztecs will get their first chance on the court to show their improvement Friday hosting Drake in an 8 p.m. contest in the San Diego Sports Arena.

Last year, Drake drubbed the Aztecs 108-80, handing the Aztecs one of their worst defeats of the season.

"We have three things going for us this week," said Aztec head coach Tim Vezie. "First of all its always good to open the season at home and secondly we are excited about moving our program back to the Arena on a full-time basis. We feel like we have a fine home for our program now. The Arena management has repainted the court in our colors and put our logo at the jump circle. All that will help us."

Revenge Motive

"The third thing we have going for us this week is a little revenge. Drake beat us up last year and we'd like to turn the tables on them just a little this season."

Drake jumped out to a 47-36 halftime lead last year and was never headed.

The Aztecs plan to start Dean Decker at point guard, Hilton Hale at the big guard, Joel Kramer and Kim Goetz at forwards and Steve Malovic at center.

Decker and Kramer are returning lettermen from last year's 13-15 squad that managed to rally at the end of the year and tie for the PCAA title.

Decker split time with Mark Delsman at the point last year, but still managed to lead the team in assists with 131. Kramer led the Aztecs in rebounding last year with a 9.2 average. Hale was a starter at Northwestern before illness forced him to the sideline and Malovic was the second leading rebounder in the PAC-8 two years ago. Goetz was a JC All-American and one of the nation's top scorers.

GC Cagers Want 'Streak' Extended

Grossmont College's 1977-78 basketball team will take a 1-0 record into Saturday's non-conference contest against East L.A. City College in the Griffin Gym. Tipoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

The Griffins opened the season Saturday by edging their alumni, 81-76. Six-foot-8 sophomore center Dave Geving and freshman Tom Best shared scoring honors for the varsity with 17 points apiece. Geving canned five of seven shots from the field and seven of eight from the free throw line. Best netted half of his 14 shots from the field and three of five from the charity stripe.

Steve Honz paced the alumni with 16 points. Grossmont battled for a 45-42 edge on the boards against a tall and talented alumni team. Dirk Oliver, who was in foul trouble most of the game, led the Griffins with eight caroms.

Lecture is on Law

"Whatever Happen to the California Evidence Code" is the theme of a law lecture at 12:15 December 9, at the S.D. County Library, 1105 Front st., S.D.

Speaker is Kenneth W. Graham Jr., law professor at the UCLA School of Law and former member of the faculty of the National College of the State Judiciary in Reno. The admission-free lecture is open to the public.

Mexico's Ruiz Wins KO's Heavywt Wynns

If you didn't watch closely you'd have missed it.

A lot of action was packed in to 32 seconds of the first round of a prize fight scheduled for 4 Friday night at the Coliseum between welterweights Mike Rundell, 145, of N.Y. and Ronald Flores 147-1/4 of San Diego.

Rundell dropped Flores with a left to the side of the head and was counted out while he was prone on the canvas.

The main go — a 10-rounder — was a little longer. It lasted 2:10 into the first round. In it, Dr. Ismael Ruiz, a medical doctor of Mexico City (210) KO'd Chula Vista's Dave Wynne (202) with a series of combinations. Dr. Ruiz thus ran his fight record to 18-1 while Wynne who had won 8 has now lost 2. Dr. Ruiz has allotted himself 2 years to make a name for himself in boxing after which he returns to his medical practice in Mexico City.

His power and speed makes his goal probable.

In a scheduled 10-round middleweight fight, Fully Obel, 162, who bills himself as the middleweight champion of Venezuela with a record of 3-0, made short work of Andre Beard, 160 of L.A. with a 6-3 record. Beard caught a left hook and was counted out at 1:50 of the second round.

In a 4-round featherweight scrap, Carlos Ortiz, 126, of Logan Heights, a Coliseum favorite, won a split decision from Kid Mesa, 128, of L.A.

Lenis Provo, 178, of Louisiana — 15-4 won a decision from Dwayne Wiley, 1-0-1, of L.A.

In an amateur bout, Harry Scheid, 127, of Lemon Grove lost a split decision to Julian Fuentes of S.D. in 3 rounds.

The next card will be Friday, December 2. The Coliseum is at 15th and E sts. in downtown San Diego.

Pentland, Keeler Sign For S.D. Mariners Play

San Diego's Mariners have taken the first steps towards building a solid defense with the signing of former Houston Aero defenseman Dwayne Pentland and veteran minor league backliner Mike Keeler.

"Our team will be defensive minded," said Mariner coach Butch Barber in announcing the signing, "and Pentland and Keeler give us two first-rate defensemen to build around."

24-year-old Dwayne Pentland could prove to be an outstanding member of the Mariner defense if a prediction by Pacific Hockey League Player Personnel Director Chuck Catto comes through. "I think Pentland will be a star in this league," states Catto, "he's an outstanding young defenseman who is just coming into his own."

Originally drafted by the New York Ranger organization, Pentland logged minor league time in Albuquerque, New Haven and Oklahoma City before joining the Aeros last season. Pentland appeared in 29 regular season games with Houston, and was used in two of the Aero playoff matches.

Both Mariner coach Barber and General Manager Bob Paine are well acquainted with the hockey talents of Mike Keeler — both were associated with Southern Hockey League teams in 1975-76 when Keeler was voted the outstanding defenseman in the Southern League.

"I've been wondering for years why Keeler wasn't in the big league," said Paine. "He can skate, handle the puck well, play good defense and mix it up with anybody."

Investments Needed To Stimulate Trade

International trade between the U. S. and other developed countries has to be conducted without protectionist measures which would cost Americans more jobs than they would artificially protect, Bank of America president A. W. Clausen said recently during the 64th National Foreign Trade Convention in New York.

Instead, new investments have to be encouraged by the government, Clausen said. 52 per cent of new investments are necessary "to keep us from slipping below present level of performance."

Clausen also noted that U. S. companies in labor-intensive countries are suffering from competition because "they have not kept their technological stocks up."

Tax programs and new investment policies that focus on productivity rather than on consumption are urgently needed, Clausen said.

He's got plenty of experience in the American and Western Leagues and he's one of the best playoff players I've ever seen."

A native of Toronto, the 27-year-old Keeler was stranded last year when the Charlotte Checkers went down with the rest of the S.H.L.

The Mariners are still dicker with four veteran minor league defensemen in an effort to fill out their defensive corps with experienced professionals. Barber is talking to former San Diego Gull Murray Kennett, former Mariner defenseman Gary Jacquith, and veteran minor leaguers Ron Jones and Jerry Zyrmak in hopes of coming up with two more veterans.

KSON to Air Mariner Hockey Games

Radio station KSON (1240) will broadcast 36 S.D. Mariner games during the 1977-78 Pacific Hockey League season.

The WHL season begins on Christmas Day when the Mariners host the San Francisco Shamrocks at the Sports Arena.

"Mariner hockey is the first sports program we have ever elected to carry," said KSON President Dan McKinnon, "and we are happy to be a part of this exciting new venture. Hockey has a bright future in San Diego and KSON is pleased to be a part of it."

The schedule will include the entire 16 game road schedule, and 20 of 24 home games. Weeknight games will be aired at 8 and Sunday games will air at 7.

The Mariners and KSON are conducting a nationwide talent hunt for a broadcaster to replace Ron Oakes, who left San Diego in October to join the Chicago Black Hawks of the NHL.

Griff Gridders Look to 1978

Based on the team's performance the final two weeks of the 1977 campaign, Grossmont College football coach Dave Jordan can hardly wait for the start of the 1978 season.

The Griffins wrapped up this year's competition Saturday by dropping a hard-fought 28-18 South Coast Conference decision to 9-1 San Diego Mesa in the annual Toys for Tots Bowl.

Especially impressive against Mesa was Grossmont's rushing game—freshman fullback Mark Chrostowski in particular. The Griffins tried 58 rushing plays and netted 222 yards as Chrostowski led the way with 170 yards on 24 carries. He also scored two touchdowns giving him a team-high 62 points for the year. Chrostowski also finished as Grossmont's leading rusher for the year with 596 yards on 135 carries.

Meanwhile, Grossmont's defense thoroughly halted Mesa's rushing plans as the Olympians finished with 90 yards on 38 attempts. Mesa's star quarterback Steve Fairchild had a big day through the air, though, as he completed 21 of 38 passes for 347 yards and three touchdowns. Fairchild finished his two-year stay at Mesa with a national JC record 5,039 yards passing.

"Our young team made a lot of progress this year," Jordan said. "We should be able to turn things around next year."

Grossmont concluded the year with a conference mark of 1-4-1, leaving the Griffins in fifth place. They were 3-6-1 for the full season.

Griffin sophomore linebacker Gene Daoust earned the game's defensive and most valuable award.

Hunting Vision Vital

Hunting accidents might be prevented by hunters wearing bright orange clothes which animals, mostly color blind, will not see, but which might serve as a warning for other hunters.

The S.D. Optometric Society also recommends that hunters with continuous bad hunting luck should have their vision checked for side vision, clear focus and effective color vision.

The most experienced hunter will miss his prey if his vision is not as sharp as it should be.

Cavazos, Lomelin On Bullfight Bill

Eloy Cavazos, the ebullient, 5'4" "Little Giant" of bullfighting, heads an all star cast Sunday in Mexicali's popular Plaza Calafia bullring.

The combination of the effish Cavazos, alternating with the tall, dark, and sable-eyed Antonio Lomelin, presents one of the most dramatic contrasts in bullfighting today.

Add to it the artistry and technical excellence of Mariano Ramos, and the card promises to attract a capacity crowd to witness the 3 p.m. encounter.

Even the bulls are something special for Sunday's action. From the famed ranch of Jose Julian Llaguno, the animals promise to be large, brave, and anxious. Due to the strict breeding regulations imposed by the Llaguno ranch, only a few herds of these bulls are presented each season.

In San Diego, tickets are available through Pacific Western Tours, phone 233-5421.

Baboons in Park

13 Macaca baboons and 14 Patas monkeys are the first inhabitants of the S.D. Wild Animal Park's recently completed Baboon Hill.

The newly-acquired group of primates, native to central and north-eastern Africa, are expected to reproduce fast within the next two years. With their addition, the park's animal collection now totals 209 species.

The Hardway

Charles Blondin crosses Niagara Falls on a tightrope several times, including blindfolded, on stilts, in a sack, pushing a wheelbarrow, carrying a man and even stopping to cook and eat an omelet.

Season Ends Sunday For S.B. Park Track

Pat McIntyre, Bill Cheesbourg and Ken Shelling, each with a string of accomplishments to show for their racing success, have filed entries to compete in Sunday's $4,000 50-lap open competition (after) Thanksgiving Day feature at South Bay Park Speedway 117.

This is the windup auto race of the season and the drivers are eager to engage in battle on the half-mile dirt oval. In addition, two season tickets will be awarded as well as merchandise prizes to lucky fans.

Time trials will be held 12:30-1:30 p.m. A 4-lap trophy dash will open the racing part of the program.

There will be 4, inverted-start heats where drivers will qualify for the 22-car feature on a progressive basis. The top five will transfer with the top two from a 15-lap semi-main moving into the feature also.

McIntyre, who is from Spring Valley, has been a star at the Cajon Speedway track for many seasons. He has won five El Cajon Stock Car Racing Assn. titles.

He'll be at the controls of his streamlined convertible Camaro.

Meanwhile, Cheesbourg is expected to head a list of several Tucson drivers will be checking into the race facility Sunday morning.

Cheesbourg notified promoter Don Basile that he wanted to make amends of his disappointing showing in the 100-lap open comp race last month. In that one, Cheesbourg's Ford encountered oil pump problems.

The former Indianapolis Speedway driver won the open comp race at South Bay two years ago.

by John E. Wirges

It seems the San Diego County government is now taking a stand against kids. And right along with it, they stand like a rock of jello supporting police-community relations.

At issue is the COPER BOWL scheduled for Jan. 7 at San Diego Stadium. For those who got in on the noon balloon from Saskatoon, the COPER BOWL is an annual football clash between the Deputy Sheriffs and San Diego City Police.

It's not a bunch of out of shape, old dads trying to relive the glory of yesteryear. No sir!

It's a knock down, drag out, pier six brawl that caps almost three months of hard running, head knocking, back breaking workouts that almost recaptures youthful conditioning for hundreds of peace officers.

The COPER BOWL is also one helluva shot in the arm for San Diego County Boy's Clubs. Last year's game, won by the San Diego "HEAT" 33-14, raised more than $20,000 for the Boy's Clubs.

An awful lot of youngsters can be involved in a lot of healthy and helpful activities on $20,000 handed over free and clear and outside their normal funding sources.

You have to figure that even politicians could understand what a tremendous asset such a contest as the COPER BOWL can be to a community and what a blessing it is to have so many talented and generous police officers and deputy sheriffs willing to donate the time and effort to make such a program work.

You'd have to figure that. But you'd be wrong. San Diego County's Chief Administrative Officer David K. Speer not only seems dead set against the game, but he's trying to get the County's Board of Supervisors to support his efforts to kill it officially.

His claim is that members of the "County Mounties" hurt themselves in game and practice and end up on the sick list with the county getting the bill.

He's partly right, of course. People do get hurt playing football. They also get hurt riding horses, sky diving, skin diving, mountain climbing, off road driving, walking, skiing and falling out of bed.

And Speer is talking about a group of men who serve the public as police officers. Their job is dangerous and a hard sell to a tax paying public they are sworn to protect.

What function could be more effective in building a base for communication and understanding between police officers and the community they serve than the hard work, sweat and effort in an All-American, rock 'em, sock 'em style football game? Especially when the beneficiary is a bunch of kids that may not be having such a hot childhood in, an often learned early, cold world.

The Police Officers Assn. and the Deputy Sheriff's Assn. are the founders of the COPER BOWL and it is to their great credit that such an institution can rise out of delay and officious pontification and come into being.

The game brings a high sense of morale into play and pinpoints the importance of physical conditioning for officers, both players and non-players, of both departments. That of and in itself might save lives when an officer is answering a disturbance call alone some deep night when more fortunate public servants, like Chief Administrative Officer David Speer, are safely tucked in their beds.

Physical conditioning is reinforced by the requirements of the game. It's a reminder to all that staying fit takes effort. And you don't have to be a genius to know that a fit officer is more alert, more in command of himself and whatever situation duty lays on him.

Of course all police officers are charged with staying fit, but the COPER BOWL offers a chance of turning fitness into achievement.

That's what the COPER BOWL is all about. Officers on a self improvement kick, helping not so well off kids and opening lines of meaningful communication to the community. Despite David Speer.

Aztecs Earn Week Off; At San Jose December 3

The S.D. State U. football team, coming off its biggest win of the season, draws an unexpected bye this week before traveling to San Jose State for the season finale on December 3.

The Aztecs were originally scheduled to meet the Spartans at 1 p.m. on November 26 in Spartan Stadium, but the game has been rescheduled for December 3 and will be televised regionally by ABC.

Last week the Aztecs upped their season record to 9-1 by belting Florida State 41-16 before a sellout crowd of 50,453 in San Diego Stadium. Florida State came into the game 8-1, ranked 13th on both wire service polls and had accepted a Tangerine Bowl bid just two hours before kickoff.

David Turner paced the Aztecs with 189 yards rushing on 25 carries while quarterback Joe Davis hit on 30 passes for 228 yards with nine going to Ronnie Smith for 121 yards.

"We're so damned proud of our people," said Aztec head coach Claude Gilbert. "The game was the most significant effort of any team I've ever been associated with. We were perfectly prepared and our first half was flawless. Joe Davis had a super night and David Turner was fantastic."

"San Diego State gave us a thorough physical whipping," said Florida State head coach Bobby Bowden.

Top Women College Hoopsters To Conduct Clinic in S.D.

Beginning and advanced fundamentals and concepts of women's basketball are featured highlights of a two-day clinic for high school and college coaches December 2-3 at Grossmont Community College.

The Kodak Women's National Basketball Coaches Clinics provide a full schedule of instruction by four of the nation's foremost coaches and players. During the San Diego clinic, instructors will be: Sue Rojewicz, asst. coach at Stanford U.; Cathy Rush, former head coach at Immaculata College who led her teams to 3 consecutive AIAWW national championships; Linda Sharp, head coach at USC; and Colleen Matsuhara, asst. coach at UCLA.

Coaches and college students are eligible to participate in the clinic during both days. High school and junior high school students may attend Saturday only. All participants are free to move from session to session.

Advanced topics to be covered include concepts of trapping and pressing defense, various zone and one-on-one offenses, various press offenses and special situation plays.

Beginning coaches as well as players can learn ball-handling fundamentals, techniques of shooting, two-on-two and three-on-three fundamentals, individual offensive moves, and rebounding techniques.

A panel discussion during which clinic participants can exchange ideas with the clinic staff is scheduled for December 2 session. Also on Friday's agenda are discussions on zone offenses, one-on-one offenses and several showings of a film on the 1977 AIAWW national tournament.

Clinic cost is $25 for coaches, $15 for college students and $10 for high school or junior high school students (for Saturday only) if registration is made in advance. At the door, fees are $30 for coaches, $20 for college students and $12 for high school or junior high school students.

Special group rates are available for junior high and high school students. When eight or more students from the same school attend the clinic on Saturday, a $2 discount a player is offered.

Advanced registration forms are available from the San Diego site coordinator, Joyce Sake, telephone number (714) 465-1700.

The Kodak Women's National Basketball Coaches Clinics will be held in 21 cities during 1977. Last year, some 3,500 coaches and players participated in clinics conducted in 18 cities across the country.

Grossmont Harriers Claim 6th State Title

It was state championship time again Saturday at Rocklin's Sierra College. And first in line to accept awards were the members of the 1977 Grossmont College cross country team.

The Griffins of coach Bob Larsen scored a mere 68 points in Saturday's finals to knock off premeat favorite American River College, which finished second with 78 markers. Fullerton and Mount San Antonio placed third and fourth, respectively, with 85 and 88 points.

By winning Saturday, the Griffins claimed an unprecedented sixth straight state title and the seventh cross country state crown in the school's history.

Modesto's Tim Holmes captured the individual state title in a course-record time of 19:15.8.

The Griffins placed 4 of their 7 runners among the top 17. Chris Hughes led the way with a sixth-place finish (19:31) and Brian Blue was next at 19:33. Matt Thornberry (19:52) pulled in 15th, while Jim Austin (19:56) was 17th.

Other Griffin finishers were: Wally Buckingham (25th, 20:09); Manuel Guaderrama (30th, 20:13); and Richard Alarcon (34th, 20:23).

The last time the Griffins failed to win the state championship was in 1971 at Sierra College. Thus, the Griffins were able to wipe that out with Saturday's victory.

420 Pound Wrestler Behemoths Battle Tuesday Night At Coliseum

The Battle of the Behemoths.

Andre, the Giant, versus the Great Goliath. And that's only half of it. It's a 4-man tag match with no disqualifications allowed.

But then, who would argue with Andre? He weighs 460 pounds. The remaining antagonists average 240.

But come Tuesday night, Andre and K.O. Perez will grapple with Black Gordman and the Great Goliath.

The contest will be one of the features of the weekly professional wrestling card at the Coliseum in downtown San Diego.

In an American Title bout, The Canadian, who is resident champion, will be tested by Tom Jones.

In other bouts Colosso Coletti meets Chavo Guerrero; Victor Rixera tests S.D. Jones in a Gladiator match, in case you weren't listening, that's where one wrestler will have dragged his opponent to each of the 4 corners of the ring, touching the ringposts, before being declared winner.

Percy Mansfield, the cosmopolitan lover, takes on Mando Guerrero, the Mexican Midgit.

The program starts at 7:30 Tuesday. The Coliseum is at 15th and E streets.

New Dodge Gets New Name—Omni

In naming the brand new Dodge Omni—the new efficiency sized car that Chrysler Corporation will reveal in early December—Chrysler avoided current cliches like animal names and romantic places. The name "Omni" was chosen by a very scientific method.

First, Chrysler marketing managers surveyed potential buyers of this efficiency-sized car to find a name that fit the product. Because the new car is designed to be flexible and versatile enough for the demanding American buyer, words relating to and literally meaning "all" were added to the list.

When the features and flexibility of the new car were described, "Omni" was one of the names preferred by interviewees. "People thought Omni was a new and interesting name for a car and that it had a ring of modernity," said Leonard J. Piconke, a director of marketing for Chrysler Corp.

Other surveys showed that people thought Omni was among the best fitting names when shown a photograph of the car, and that they responded well to the name when it was used in mock advertising.

Truckers' Citations Rise Dramatically

A 26 per cent increase of tickets to truck drivers for violating the speed limit and a 115.5 per cent increase in tailgating citations were reported by the state Highway Patrol in September 1977 in comparison to the same month last year.

Drivers whose licenses have been suspended or revoked following conviction for multiple driving-under-the-influence offenses have a better subsequent driving record than those drivers fined or jailed, who could keep their licenses.

These are the conclusions reached in a study conducted by the Department of Motor Vehicles among two groups 1,500 of multiple DUI offenders respectively.

Proficiency-Test Law Is Workshop Study

Ramifications of a new law under which students must be assessed in grades 4-6, 7-9 and 10-11 for reading and writing proficiencies were discussed during last week's State Department of Education's workshops.

70 educators throughout the county discussed possible approaches to compliance with the law. Assessing students during the next two years would be necessary to meet the minimum proficiency standards, and community input will be sought to establish competency levels. Concern was voiced over students from Mexico who speak no or little English, since they, too, have to pass the tests.

Death Threats and Deportation

Life's No Easier For Illegal Alien Birds

Ten Tahiti blue lorries smuggled into the United States from their native islands in the Tuamotu group in the South Pacific have been deported to England pending an approval from U. S. customs agents to allow their return to the San Diego Wild Animal Park.

Back in early October the birds, smuggled illegally into the U. S. and all members of a very rare species of parrots found only in the South Pacific, were confiscated by U.S. Customs agents and given to the Wild Animal Park for safekeeping.

When U. S. Department of Agriculture officials learned of the illegal entry of the birds, plans were made to seize the creatures. USDA officials acting on federal laws had two alternatives — destroy the birds or send them back home.

Dr. James Dolan, general curator of the Wild Animal Park, with the aid from zoos across the country, the American Federation of Agriculturalists, and the American Association of Zoological Parks and Aquariums sent an urgent appeal to the U. S. Attorney General's office to block the USDA's planned execution of the parrots.

The Attorney General's office responded by demanding the birds be kept alive as evidence in the smuggling case.

On October 29, customs agents in Los Angeles turned over the birds to the Wild Animal Park under the condition the birds be "exported" from the country for 90 days.

To keep customs and USDA officials happy, Wild Animal Park curator Dolan put the birds on a sanctuary flight to lorie-parrot expert Rosemary Low in a London, England suburb.

With the U. S. Attorney General's smuggling case evidence carefully quarantined in London, Wild Animal Park officials plan to apply to the USDA for an import license which will ultimately bring the birds back into the U. S. sometime next spring.

"These birds are so rare," Wild Animal Park Director Dolan said, "we hope to start a breeding nucleus of the species at the Wild Animal Park."

Maddy Hits Brown On Farm Control

"If Governor Brown thinks that he can take 'a 180' on the 160 issue and hope that people will forget his original support of the proposed regulations, he's sadly mistaken," said Assemblyman Ken Maddy, Republican candidate for Governor.

Speaking at a California Farmers Assn. dinner in Dinuba, the 4-term Assemblyman told his audience that Brown's new stance on the 160 acre regulation, articulated by State Director of the Department of Food and Agriculture Richard E. Rominger, was an "opportunistic attempt at covering up his administration's 1976 supportive position of the regulations."

"It is little wonder that Secretary Andrus was surprised and shocked by the Governor's new stance," Maddy said.

"Of course, now that he's changed his position, the Governor can gain in two ways. He can hope to recover some support he's lost from the agricultural community for the 1978 gubernatorial elections and he can discredit a cabinet member of the Carter Administration to aid him in the 1980 presidential elections."

Maddy said the Brown administration's credibility must now be questioned by those Federal agencies California must look to for support and aid in solving the State's water problems. "In the long run," Maddy said, "he will hurt all Californians, not just people in agriculture."

Persons interested in participating in the testing program may make a reservation by calling 465-1700, extension 401, or they may take the tests on a first-come, first-served basis at any time during the scheduled testing hours.

Two tests may be taken from categories that include aptitude, interest and basic skills. The tests will be interpreted by the specialists conducting the testing program.

YOU AND YOUR PET

By Robert L. Stear, D.V.M.

Euthanasia

Euthanasia is a Greek term that literally means "easy death." Today the term is generally translated as mercy killing. However you define it, the meaning is the same — the quick painless death of a seriously ill (or unwanted) living creature.

Because of advances in veterinary medicine, more pet owners must now deal with the problem of the aged or chronically ill pet. Many pet owners find it difficult to even discuss the possibility of their pet's death, even though the pet is increasingly uncomfortable.

Some signs of advanced age in dogs and other animals are: arthritis, loss of bladder control, and certain types of cataracts. The aged dog may be reluctant to move from bed except for meals and elimination, because of the pain from an arthritic condition. And he may no longer be able to wait until you come home from work for elimination or urine or feces.

In such cases, your veterinarian will be able to evaluate the amount of discomfort your pet is suffering and can keep you informed about your pet's condition. It may be possible to administer maintenance therapy to increase your pet's comfort.

Despite all your efforts, there may be a time when you have to decide about the possibility of a humane death for a suffering pet. If you conclude that you should let your veterinarian spot your pet's discomfort, don't feel guilty about it. The procedure is generally quick and painless.

The most humane method of euthanasia is the injection of an overdose of a barbiturate drug, similar to the products used by veterinarians as anesthetics. The animal is quite literally "put to sleep." It loses consciousness within seconds and death follows almost immediately.

Barbiturates are usually used in the private veterinary office. However, most animal shelters use a rapid decompression chamber, which can accommodate several animals at a time. In this procedure, oxygen is mechanically removed from the chamber, and the animals quickly become unconscious and die.

Personnel at shelters using this procedure claim the animals inside the chamber feel little or no pain, except for a dizziness caused by the decrease in oxygen. They refer to the experiences of persons who participated in high altitude/low oxygen testing, where the results show minimal physical distress. There are other less commonly used drugs and procedures that will also effectively result in the death of a sick or unwanted animal.

Although it may seem cruel, euthanasia at the local animal shelter is preferable to the practice of turning a healthy but unwanted pet out on the street to fend for itself.

The pet owner was unwilling to find a home for his pet among friends or refuses to visit a shelter is not really giving his dog or cat a "last chance" on a city street or country. Rather this individual is forcing the pet into a miserable, underfed, unsheltered existence and is creating a public nuisance.

JUST TO PASS THE TIME during off duty hours on a cruise through the Western Pacific, Navy Senior Chief Machinist Mate Alan D. Howser of Spring Valley fashions six-sided nickel and copper alloy nuts in 'o' rings. Howser, 33, is stationed aboard the amphibious ship USS Alamo (LSD-33) and begins his creations by roughing out the center threads (above).

From that point he shapes the metal (center) and ends up with the finished product (below). It takes Chief Howser about 25 hours over a two week period to complete one ring.

Antarctica Expedition Seeks One Local Scout

The San Diego County Council of the Boy Scouts of America is looking for an area scout or explorer to win a berth on an Antarctic expedition planned for sometime next year.

Council Commissioner Cdm. Norman Martinson, USN (Ret.) announced the selection of a single representative to commemorate the 50th anniversary of Scout Paul Siple's trip to Little America with Cdr. Richard E. Byrd in 1928.

"It is also intended," Martinson said, "to stress the high-adventure aspects of the Boy Scouts of America, to recall the strength of Scouting over the five decades since Paul Siple's experience, to emphasize Scouting's highlight programs for youth, and to bring to a large proportion of American youth the significance of polar scientific studies as a base for broadening human knowledge."

The local Council will select its candidate on March 1, 1978 and this winner will compete with winners from other councils in Area Four of the Western Region.

This regional competition will be decided on May 1 and the six regional winners will go to Washington for a week in June to select who will make the Antarctic expedition. The trip will begin in the fall of next year and continue for about three months.

The trip is cosponsored by the National Science Foundation and the Reader's Digest Foundation.

SV Businessman Stifled In Search for Workers

The right employers hold to hire those best suited to the job has taken another beating. And it was the women who lost out on the jobs.

One Spring Valley cocktail lounge owner has fallen prey to confusion over federal equal employment provisions when he tried to seek a cocktail waitress from the student employment services at San Diego State University and received one applicant—a male—out of the 35,000 job seekers at the school.

The idea Bill and Rita Retzlaff, owners of the Play Pen lounge, 9924 Campo road, Spring Valley, had when they called the SDSU Student Employment Office was to seek help among students, usually in need of jobs.

When Bill Retzlaff called the SDSU employment office to list two jobs, waitress and bartender, he told them he would prefer to hire women.

Retzlaff said a staff member of the employment office told him his job could not be listed only for women and added the job would be listed as "cocktail server".

It was a few days later the school sent the male college student to apply for the job.

A spokesman for the employment office at SDSU, who wished to remain unnamed, said it was rare that a man would apply for just such a position offered by the Retzlaffs.

"It is rare that a male would go apply. It's common knowledge that a woman should apply for just such a job."

Yet, on the other hand, the spokesman said the employment office screens job seekers so that "we are reasonably assured there is a chance they will be hired."

Bill Retzlaff said he told the employment office at SDSU the chance were "remote" he would hire a man as a cocktail waitress.

The spokesman for the employment office could give no reason for the mix-up but did say a man had just as much right to the job as a woman.

"In larger more expensive restaurants, men do serve cocktails," said the spokesman, "It is sometimes awkward for us. Sometimes it costs us a listing but we are living in an age of equal opportunity. We sometimes have to make people aware of reality."

"Both (men and women) can equally well carry drinks. Both can equally wait on customers. And both can equally collect tips," the spokesman added.

The lounge the Retzlaffs took over and have been massively remodeling since September is a former topless bar.

BoA Mgr. Eyes S.V. UW/CHAD

Darwin Weidauer, manager of Bank of America's Campo-Conrad branch, is leading the windup of the Spring Valley drive for the UW-CHAD Combined Campaign.

Weidauer and a team of volunteers are calling on businesses and organizations in that community to raise $10,901, Spring Valley's share of the 1977 countywide goal of $9,217,915.

Weidauer was appointed to his campaign post by Hal Logan, East County chairman.

The UW/CHAD Combined Campaign is a once-a-year countywide appeal which helps support more than 200 health and human care services of United Way and CHAD agencies. These services touch the life of one resident of every three in San Diego County.

Weidauer is a member of Casa de Oro Business Assn. Highway 94 Assn. and Spring Valley Rotary Club.

Since this newspaper's initial investigation last week into the employment services at San Diego State, the Retzlaffs have been sent another applicant, a woman, who was immediately hired.

"They talk about rights," Bill Retzlaff said Monday, "but what about our rights as business. I don't believe I am prejudiced for or against anybody."

"But I am sure," he continued, "I would have never called them again for job applicants had they not called me with someone who could fill my job."

"I'm not one for causes but I have my rights, too."

Sups Agree To Issue Tear Gas Permits

An $18.15 fee has been approved unanimously by the S.D. County Board of Supervisors for the processing of tear gas permits.

A recently adopted state law allows adults who have not been convicted of a felony and have completed a tear gas training course, to obtain a permit to purchase and use tear gas weapons for self defense. Permits are available from the Sheriff's office or the Chief of Police.

What You Should Know

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Colds

What can you do for the common cold?

Most folks know you can't cure it. And yet we keep trying. We still waste a lot of time and money on pills and nostrums and treatments—all in the faint hope that maybe this time something will help.

A cold is caused by one or more of many viruses, the American Medical Association reminds, and actually Grandma's home therapy is still good.

If you get a cold, stay home in bed. Keep warm. Gargle to ease a sore throat. Take a mild pain reliever for the discomfort. None of this will cure the cold, but it will make you feel somewhat more comfortable while your body's natural defense mechanisms are building up enough steam to overcome the cold virus.

Most of us have a cold or two during the course of the winter. Usually we try to keep going to the office, but sometimes we feel too bad to work and spend a day or two at home.

There are medications now available — antihistamines, pain relievers, cough suppressants, and fever reducers—that can make the symptoms of a cold much less severe. These have their limitations and their problems.

The antihistamines can cause drowsiness, which can be highly dangerous when driving an auto. If you get a cold, ask your doctor about the medications that reduce the runny nose and sneezing and coughing.

As youngsters heard the old folks say: Treat a cold and cure it in two weeks; let it alone and it will go away in a fortnight. The time element isn't that exact, but the theory is the same.

Much research has been done on the cause and possible cure for colds. Perhaps the answer will be found some day. But as of now we can't cure colds and anyone who tells you he can deserves at best considerable suspicion.

Astronaut Lovell To Speak Dec. 5

Captain James Lovell, pilot of America's first moon mission Apollo 8, will lecture at Southwestern College December 5, 8 p.m. in Mayan Hall.

The third guest in the Artist/Lecture series, Lovell's topic is "Twice To the Moon and Back." Admission is $2.00. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Captain Lovell began his career as a test pilot stationed in Maryland. He was selected as an Astronaut by NASA in 1962. In December of 1965, he was launched into space on the history-making Gemini 7 mission which included the first rendezvous of two manned maneuverable spacecraft.

In December of 1968 Lovell piloted Apollo 8—man's maiden voyage to the Moon. He and crew became the first humans to leave the earth's gravitational influence. Captain Lovell completed his fourth mission as Spacecraft Commander of the Apollo 13 flight in 1970 and became the first man to journey twice to the moon.

The flight plan was modified en route due to a failure of the cryogenic oxygen system. Lovell with crew converted their lunar module into an effective lifeboat. Slides of the Apollo 13 flight highlight his lecture.

CRIMEFIGHTER ALARM—Olin Thompson (left), owner of Lemon Grove Hardware, 7846 Broadway, looks over the display set up in his store by Master Lock Company representative Steve Lichtenberger. The Crimefighter Alarm System developed by Master Lock has been on the market for the past two months in a pilot program in San Diego County. The sophisticated system is far less expensive than solid state units costing $700, is moveable, and is currently being used in demonstrations by the Sheriff's Department Crime Prevention Unit.

I just purchased a moped motorized bicycle. Do I need a special driver's license? And do I have to register the vehicle?

This Week's Answer:

You are required to have either a Class 3 driver's license or an instruction permit, after completing driver's education and driver's training. The DMV does not require registration for a motorized bicycle.

Steve Martin Booked For Convention Center

Steeve Martin brings his ludicrous brand of comedy to the Convention Center for a one-night show December 1 at 8:30.

Currently one of the nation's hottest young comedians, Martin has recently been featured in major news magazines and comes to San Diego fresh from performances on "Saturday Night" and "The Tonight Show" and a cross-country tour before capacity audiences.

His ability to communicate his audiences is the key to his whole performance. Martin says of the character he portrays, "It's a kind of neurotic belligerence. The character is trying to win no matter what, but he thinks wrong."

Martin has done the Johnny Carson show 15 times.

As a youngster in Orange county, Martin spent 8 years working in the Disneyland "Magic Kingdom." In his act he uses balloon animals, novelty shop magic tricks, funny eyeglasses with a rubber nose and the arrow that goes through his head.
